Dear John:

Plans for and work on the computer are rapidly getting into high gear. Ed, Chuck and Jay are spending a large part of their time on it. Chuck, by the way, has returned to the office following his bout with a ruptured disk. His absence was by no means entirely "lost" time. He devoted many of his recuperating hours to planning for the computer and Ed spent some time with him at his home and on the telephone. So, all told, it appears that progress is being made.

As you may know, the computer will be located in what is now our Library--directly across the pool from the Conference Room. The office on the far side of the building directly apposite the main entrance is being converted to a Library. Preparation of the above areas for use as indicated require expenditures totalling approximately  broken down as follows:

STATINTL

- (1) New Library: Installation of shelving, reinstallation of carpeting, etc.
- (2) Computer Room: (a) Installation of supplementary air conditioning
(b) Installation of raised floor
(c) Installation of electrical circuits, wiring, etc.
(d) Installation of louvres on window wall (similar to louvres on Conference Room window wall)

Total

STATINTL

These expenditures will be charged against  funds and will be capitalized. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,
